

"BRAINSTORMS," BRIDE'S FATHER SAYS OF BROKAW

Jealousy and an Irritable Temperament Blamed for the Trouble.

IS "HONEYMOON TIFF."

Intense Love for Bridegroom Is Partly at Fault, Says the Banker.

Joseph A. Blair, father of Mrs. W. Gould Brokaw, declares in an interview that all the trouble between his daughter and her millionaire husband has been due to the latter's intense jealousy and "brainstorms."

"But it's only a honeymoon tiff and they have not separated," he added, declaring that Mr. and Mrs. Brokaw were preparing to return to their shooting lodge and game preserve at Fairview, N. C., as soon as her condition permits her to travel.

Mrs. Brokaw is still in Dr. Craig's sanitarium, No. 34 Lexington avenue. She is said to be suffering from a mild attack of typhoid fever, and not from neurasthenia, as reported. She will not be able to leave the place for another week at least. Meanwhile Mr. Brokaw remains at the Plaza.

Mr. Blair, his wife and their unmarried daughter are now at the Fairview lodge, this State. He admits that the object of his visit there was to effect a reconciliation, if possible, a plan that was interfered with by the precipitate flight of the Brokaws to New York. To a World correspondent he said:

"I think it best for both Mr. Brokaw and my daughter that the facts be given to the world, in this case, to put an end to the baseless stories that have been set afoot."

Jealousy and Brainstorms.

"The intense jealousy, the intense love and the brain storms of Mr. Brokaw are at the bottom of the unhappy affair. A physician who knew him and studied him characterized his fits of anger as brain storms.

"He is so madly in love with his wife that he is unreasonable in his jealousy. His jealousy is aroused not only by persons who are pleasing to his daughter, but also by things. Her horses, her dogs, the delicacies of which she is fond at the table, her pastimes arouse in him anger that lead to violent scenes."

"Brokaw opposed his bride in almost everything she did. One evening she was playing billiards with one of the guests. He rushed into the room in a tantrum and snatched the cue from her hands. The guest controlled his temper with difficulty. Her fondness for horseback riding to his bete noire. Recently he went so far as to instruct the stablemen to refuse to permit her to take out any of the horses. She had several animals of which she is fond, yet she had to give them up."

She Fretted Under Restraint.

"He carries this insane jealousy into little things, and naturally she, being a young woman fond of society and amusements of all kinds, fretted under this restraint, and life became a series of annoyances and worries."

Mr. Blair told how Brokaw had fallen in love with his daughter at first sight, with so violent a passion that he let nothing stand in his way until he had won her. Brokaw is forty-two and his wife twenty-one years old. He first met her on a Hudson River boat, among mutual friends. His courtship was rapid and fervid.

"There was nothing but the happiness of a honeymoon up to the time of the quarrel. The trouble occurred during the festivities of New Year's. There was a wake walk at the Lodge and negroes from all parts of the State had been brought here to dance. There were many guests. Mr. Brokaw became angry at his wife for some small reason, and when there have been many repetitions."

A SONG HIT ABOUT THE FIREFMEN.

"The Boys That Fight the Flames" is the title of the song hit of George M. Cohan's new musical play "Fifty Miles from Boston," as presented at the Garrick Theatre after a successful run in Boston. The words and music, complete, of this latest popular Cohan song will be given in the magazine section of next Sunday's World. Music by permission of F. A. Mills, publisher.

ROBBED ON WAY TO BANK WITH $1,100, THEY SAY

Employees of Grocer Tell of Daylight Robbery and Chase—Police Skeptical.

Police Captain Toole, of the Oak street station, said today he expected an arrest would be made in connection with the robbery of John Randle, a wholesale grocer, of No. 28 and 30 Cherry street, who intrusted $1,100 to two employees yesterday to be taken to the Market and Fulton Bank at Gold and Fulton street. Half an hour after the men started for the bank they returned and told Mr. Randle they had been robbed at Franklin Square, and that the robbers after getting the money had run away.

William Murphy, fifty years old, of No. 428 Union street, Brooklyn, has long been a trusted employee of Randle. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Hugh F. Sullivan, a young man who drives one of Randle's wagons and lives next to the grocery, he started to drive to the bank.

When the wagon, which is a covered one with a high tailboard, reached Franklin Square Sullivan says he heard a noise behind him and looked around to see two young men on the rear of the wagon, one of whom seized the satchel containing the money, and both slid to the ground and made off. Murphy could not run very well, but Sullivan jumped from the wagon and gave chase. He says they ran through Pearl street to Deck slip, where he lost trace of them.
